A Prayer for Lent.

Prayer and fasting, oh, my Father,

Never let me come to Thee;

Let the angels whisper ever

In my ear—circumstances

Oh, my Father, hear me fasted

Till it faints with hungry pain,

Yet, if Thou wilt not, say,

All my fast I count as gain.

Humbly let me kneel before Thee

With affection crucified,

With my spirit contrite, broken,

Healed on all its human pride.

Keep my tongue from evil speaking,

Keep my lips from words of sin,

Keep my heart from Satan's whispers,

Keep my feet in wisdom's ways.

Thou who seest all my weakness,

Thou who knowest how to heal,

Pity me, and guard my treasures

All untouched by "mirth and riot."

Close and clear, oh, my Father,

In the shadow of Thy wing,

Let my spirit dwell

With the pure that walk on earth.

Sensible Suggestions.

In the city of New York last week, there were two hundred and thirty-two doctors of medicine graduated from one of the large medical schools.

This was regarded by the college as a fine display. The graduates, no doubt, looked upon themselves as an army of young medical gentlemen who had been called into the profession by the needs of the times, and the clamorous necessities of sickly communities. The general public, however, is disposed to look upon the whole matter as being something like one of a series of pleasantries that are gone through with at regular intervals the country over.

It is unfortunate that young men everywhere are disposed to rush into the professions, and neglect the plain-er but safer walks of life. It is unfortunate for themselves and others.

Many of them are altogether unprepared by a precedent course of education or training; many of them are altogether mistaken as to their capabilities, and find too late that they have "missed their calling." This is attested by the large numbers of them who, within a year or two after graduation, give up the pursuit of professional success and relapse back into their former occupation, discouraged and feeling that they have wasted

some of their best years.

A mistake in this regard is a hard matter to rectify, and certainly, the possibility of making one is a sufficient warrant for great care and circumspection upon the part of young gentlemen who prefer a title, or the fancied ease and dignity of a professional life, to such avocations as offer no such gratifying but empty induc-ments.

As a general rule, no young man should go into one of the learned professions without a degree of high and elaborate mental training. Without it, he may be a half successful empiric,

he may, indeed, get beyond the range of Empiricism, but he can hardly find enough reward to compensate him for what he may have lost, had he confined his efforts to another direction.

No where does this profession-fer-rage with more violence than in Virginia, and we would be glad to be able to put this matter in the right light to the eyes of young men, so that they might seriously consider their steps before they are made, and while yet there is chance of avoiding the disappointment and chagrin of failure.

At no time in the history of our

State has there been a greater or more imperative demand for young men to consider the industrial interests of the Scotch Marriages.

No doubt most of the persons who followed the evidence in the recent trial of Captain Blair before a court martial for committing bigamy, concluded that Blair must have told a deliberate falsehood when he declared, as he did repeatedly, that he was not aware at the time of his marriage with Mrs. Granger that he had already been married in Scotland. The conclusion seemed inevitable that if he had contracted such a legal marriage, he must have been aware of the fact, and as the prosecution demonstrated that he is the husband of the woman in Scotland, it was only natural to believe that his denial was a bold and shameless attempt to hide guilt with a lie. Possibly his denial was of this character; but it is only fair to say in his emphatic protests that he is not consciously guilty, that the condition of the marriage laws in Scotland is such that a man might easily find himself in Captain Blair's position without entertaining the smallest purpose to commit bigamy. Indeed a man who is ignorant of the Scotch law might marry half a dozen women without even suspecting that he had abandoned celibacy. It is so easy a thing to get married in Scotland that a designing woman who knew what she was about, might make a husband out of any unsuspicious man before he could have a chance to get upon the defensive.

A marriage contract in Scotland may be made by word of mouth, at a moment's notice, nothing in the nature of a preliminary notice, much less any form or ceremony, being requisite. If a man shall say, pointing to a woman, "This is my wife," and she shall merely bow in assent, that is sufficient proof of marriage. But even such assent on the part of the woman is not necessary. Chamber's Encyclopedia, published at Edinburgh and a good authority on this subject, says that "the consent may be proved more circumstantially by the conduct of the parties." If it can be proved that mere promise of marriage was given as an inducement to permit marital privileges, that also constitutes a legal marriage. Where parties have lived together and had repute among neighbors as man and wife, the marriage is a legal fact, and the law does not require in such a case that the giving of any promise or consent shall be proved.

This last named provision of the law seems to have been the one that got Captain Blair into trouble, for he admits that his association with the person who now claims to be his wife was notorious and it is confessed by him in letters which she has in her possession. Most people will be inclined to believe that his present suffering has come in the shape of righteous retribution; but this theory may be accepted without believing him to be a miserable liar, and without charging him with the infamy of intentionally wrecking the life of the lady whom he married in this country under the supposition that he was a single man.

The claim made for the Scotch marriage laws is by making wedlock easy

they promote virtue; and in the case of Captain Blair it is difficult to perceive that injustice is done to any body but the person whom he married in this country. But these laws do some times work cruel and terrible injustice to innocent persons. A striking proof of this was supplied in the famous Yelverton case, wherein a respectable woman who contracted a marriage that was perfectly legal in Scotland was declared by an English court not to be a lawful wife, the

One would think crime would have learned by this time that it is no match

The Interior Journal.

STANFORD, KY.
Friday Morning, March 14, 1879.
W. F. WALTON, Editor.

THE last words of Judge Durham, who has made this district a most laborious and excellent representative in Congress for six years, before time shut off his official career, were as follows. He was speaking on the failure of the Appropriation bill because of the iniquitous Election bill tacked to it and his words are such as should animate every honest heart in the country: "Only one or two words more. I believe local self-government is the cardinal principle involved in State sovereignty. I believe that it lies at the foundation of all free institutions. Believing, as I said a moment ago, that all these laws in regard to supervisors and marshals corrupt the ballot-box rather than preserve its purity, I am glad that, as I shall within a few minutes step out of the position which I have occupied here for the last six years, in the last declaration I shall probably ever utter in the American Congress, the opportunity is presented to me to raise my voice for free elections, free ballots, for State rights, and for unrestricted local self-government." [Great applause on the Democratic side.]

Up to the 8th, thirty thousand applications under the Arrears of Pension Act had been received at the Pension Office at Washington, and they are coming in at the rate of 400 per day. The first notification a pensioner will have of the allowance of his claim will be the receipt of the certificate which entitles him to his money, and which he can get if it is in the Treasury and not otherwise appropriated. Appropriations of this Congress were so heavy, however, that the prompt payment of pensions is doubtful. The average amount received by each pensioner under this act is about $900. If the Commissioner's estimate is correct, of 35,000 valid claims, the amount called for will be $31,500,000 for pensioners already on the rolls. [Telegram in Cincinnati Commercial.]

THE 46th Congress, which commences next Tuesday, will be composed of 42 Democrats, 1 Independent and 33 Republicans, and in the Senate, 148 Democrats, 12 Greenbackers and 127 Republicans. If, by any possibility, the Republican minority could secure the co-operation of all the smaller factions, their united forces would still be too small to prevent the regular Democrats from organizing the House. The claims made by some of the Greenbackers as to holding the balance of power, are mere brag. Both Senate and House will be firm in the grasp of Democratic majorities. So says a Republican paper.

THE wicked San Franciscoans are now enjoying a blasphemous play at one of their theatres, called the "Passion Play," in which Jesus Christ, Pontius Pilate, and other sacred characters are represented. The trial of our Savior before Pontius Pilate, his Crucifixion and death upon the Cross, are portrayed in startling reality to the great satisfaction of the sacrilegious throng. And such a country as that which objects to having its moral atmosphere contaminated by John Chinaman!

SENATOR HAMPTON says if the doctors will allow it, he will be present at the extra session of Congress, and should any thing very important require his presence there, he will go whether they consent or not. He expresses himself as pleased with the action of the last Congress in refusing to pass the appropriation for the obnoxious Election Supervisors, and would favor Congress sitting forever rather than recede from so good a position.

TWENTY ODD millions of the new silver coin have accumulated in the Treasury vaults, and the amount is increasing at the rate of $60,000 per day. Nobody will take them if they can get greenbacks, and it is said that a bill will be introduced before the new Congress requiring the Secretary to pay out a certain per cent. of these dollars in current disbursements, whether the creditor wants them or not.

The Democratic party, through its representatives in Congress, stands before the country in a splendid attitude. Fair trial by jury, no Federal bayonets at the polls, local elections free from Federal interference and bribery—this was its valdictory as the 45th Congress died. [Cin. Eq.]

TWENTY-FIVE persons were arrested in Ironton, O., charged with aiding and abetting in a cock-fight. They pleaded guilty, but the Judge popped it to them in fines ranging from $5 to $100. That's the way to break up the cruel sport.

Two men, Col. R. A. Alston and Ed. Cox, had an altercation in the Capital building of the State of Georgia last Tuesday, which ended in shots, Alston being instantly killed, and Cox mortally wounded.

LITTLE PHIL is our Congressman now, and is already at his post in Washington. We expect to hear a good report of him.

In Clark county, a body of twenty masked men went to the house of W. B. Moore, a brother-in-law of Ben. B. Groom, the Cattle King of Kentucky, and calling him to the door, told him unless he made immediate settlement of his debts he would be compelled to leave the county. Moore procured his shotgun and fired into the crowd. The volley was answered by about a dozen shots, three of which took effect in Moore's body, inflicting severe but not dangerous wounds. Two men supposed to be implicated in the affair were arrested in Winchester this morning, and after they were arrested and had been incarcerated in jail, awaiting trial, a number of their confederates came to Winchester and liberated them.

THE contest for the Speakership of the next House is growing exceedingly warm, but Joe Blackburn is reported as calm and undisturbed, confident that he will preside over the lower department of the 46th Congress. It is said that the Republicans much prefer Randall to Blackburn, and if so foolish a thing as a vote between them is allowed before the House that they are instructed to go solidly for him. We have invested our money on Joe, and hope to see him come out of the big end of the horn, smiling as he twists that magnificent mustache of his.

THE last Congress voted to each of its members $375 for stationery, or a total amount of $124,225, and it is said that the huge swindle is made without a show of authority in the statute books. To get away with the allowance many members drew the balance in cash, some got traveling socks, others opera gloves, books, razors, and many other articles not necessary for writing purposes. Hon. P. B. Thompson, Jr., will please stick his hat in this leak to the Treasury.

THE Legislature of Virginia, a majority of whose members are demagogues and men who care nothing for the sacred honor of the State, adjourned without passing the bill to adjust and pay the debt of the Commonwealth. The cry of repudiation is strong among a certain class, but surely there are enough honest and sensible men to stand by the honor of the State and see that the last farthing is paid.

THE New York Sun is publishing a list of Hayes' appointments, showing that in every case where a man had anything to do with the crime of counting him in, he has, without an exception, rewarded that man with an office, the pay of which is commensurate with the services rendered in the count. And yet Hayes has the assurance to prate about Civil Service Reform.

The time of the Common Carrier Company to operate the Cincinnati Southern R. R. was up on the 12th, but they have agreed to continue the management, for the present, as before, with the exception that they are to get 8 instead of 10 per cent. on their capital, and no reserved percentage. Surely this is as much as could be reasonable asked of them.

THE next Presidential election will be made one in which the army will not be the right wing of a party nor the intimidator of citizens nor the protector of perjured thieves. The Presidency will not be stolen next time, nor will the use of the army be predicable as an asset to help those who may want to steal it. [Albany Argus.]

CHARLES WEBSTER, Geo. Washington's accomplice in the rape of little Frances Otte, at Louisville, has been found guilty and sentenced to be hanged; and it is to be hoped that the Sheriff will go to work and make a rope strong enough to prevent a repetition of the scene of the last bungling affair.

The statistics are all made up for the year 1878, and they show a balance of trade of $305,343,028 in favor of the United States, more than double the amount of the balance in our favor for 1877, which was the largest in the history of the country up to that time.

If old Jeff Davis should die before the coming election, what a heap of political capital would be "piel." The Republicans should pray to the devil to keep his hands off the old man for awhile yet. [Ex.]

THE Greenbackers' State Convention meets in Frankfort, March 20; Republican in Louisville, April 10, and Democratic in Louisville, May 1.

A SEVERE drouth which prevails in the San Antonio section of Texas causes farmers to drive their stock for miles to water.

BROXSTON's majority over Adams for the candidacy of the Democracy in the race for Commonwealth's Attorney is 459.

A TERRIBLE inundation in Hungary is causing the loss of thousands of lives of persons living along the river Theiss.

In the last four years $275,314,600 worth of property has been destroyed by fire in the United States.

CONGRESS appropriated three and a quarter millions to defray the expenses of taking the new census.

It looks mighty like the ticket will be Blackburn, Cantrill, Hardin and Hewitt.

ELIUS BURRETT, the "Learned Blacksmith," is dead.

ANY person seeking to excuse Capt. Blair for his conduct, is referred to an article on our first page, headed "Scotch Marriages."

Words of Comfort.
THE STANFORD JOURNAL has entered its eighth year, and, take it all in all, is the best county paper in the State. It has done great service for Lincoln county, and we are glad to know that it is getting its reward in a good and growing patronage. [Cincinnati Journal.]

The STANFORD JOURNAL entered upon its eighth year on last Friday. There is not a better conducted paper in the State, or one that has accomplished more good for the field which it occupies. May its career be as long as it is now useful. [Richmond Herald.]

The STANFORD JOURNAL has just entered its eighth year. The JOURNAL has done great service for Lincoln county, and is withal one of the best county papers in the State. We are glad to know that it is getting its reward in a good and growing patronage. [Columbia Spectator.]

Who is the Coward?
A certain editor in the interior of Kentucky knows some interesting facts about a swindle in his town and is afraid to publish them. He desires the News to first print the facts so that he may copy them into his paper. How is that for enterprise? If he will write the article, swear to its correctness, and send it to the News, perhaps it will be printed, but the libel suit business is about the most flourishing in the city just now. [Louisville News.]

We know the editor of the Register is not the man, and we will swear that it is not Walton of the Stanford JOURNAL. Show up boys, and let's dig him out. [Register.]

The editor of the Visitor pleads "not guilty." [Lancaster Visitor.]

The editor of the Standard is not the man referred to. Who is the next to enter a disclaimer? [Lebanon Standard.]

Status of the Census.
We are indebted to the Courier-Journal for the following table showing the status of the State census to date. Eighty-one counties have held Conventions representing a vote of 1,033, and there are 35 counties and the City of Louisville, yet to appoint delegates. The instructed vote is as follows:

ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.

Mr. Vernon.
RIDING FROM THE ASHES.—Mr. J. T. Clark has completed a part of his new dwelling, and he and family moved into it this week.

MARRIED.—By Judge G. W. McClure, on Sunday morning, Bod Pike to Miss Mary, daughter of Samuel Whitmore. No cards, and only one premature baby.

INTEREST IN THE S. S.—The interest in the Sunday School, it makes us very happy to say, is on the increase. Many who should be in attendance, do not, though, put in an appearance.

MULE MATTERS.—Mr. G. W. Alford, of Lincoln, has been in our county this week, engaged in buying mules and horses. We learn that he purchased a good lot for which he paid fair prices.

THE ACADEMY.—Our Male and Female Academy, under its present management is flourishing. A number of young gentlemen and ladies from the county are taking advantage of its thorough course of instruction. Prof. A. G. Lovell seems to be a popular and successful instructor.

BAD WOMEN WHIPPED.—The K. K. K. were on the war-path one night last week. They made a raid on a house of ill-fame near Rodhead, kept by one James Ross. To Ross and his daughter—who is the chief attraction of the place, they administered a severe chastisement—doubtless, teaching them a lesson which will do them good.

DIED FROM HIS INJURIES.—James Anderson, a brakeman on the L. & N. R. R. while engaged in coupling cars at Livingston last week, had his hand mangled very badly. He suffered intensely until Wednesday night, when he died. He leaves a wife and children. His life was insured in the National Mutual Benefit Association.

FALSE PRETENSES.—Tom McClure and Wm. Prewitt came into town Monday evening, and sold M. F. Brinkley fifty cows, which they claimed as their own property, receiving the pay for same. Next day W. H. Cummins went to Brinkley and told him the lies belonged to him (Cummins). Thereupon a warrant for obtaining money under false pretenses was issued by Judge McClure against McClure (no kin to the Court) and Prewitt, and they were arrested by the Sheriff on Tuesday. In default of a $200 bond each, they were sent to jail, and their trial fixed for Thursday, 13th.

"SWIFT'S SILVER MINE."—Three gentlemen of this county, have recently leased "Swift's Silver Mine," and will shortly begin to operate it. This mine is situated in Jackson county, on the headwaters of Devil's Dance, and is popularly, but erroneously supposed to have once been worked by Swift, a famous counterfeiter, whence its name. The mine was, in fact, never worked by Swift at all, and its location is known only to a man 127 years old, who lives in one of the counties of the "Purchase." This man, for a fair compensation, has agreed to reveal to the lessees the exact spot where the "ore" can be found. His name is not known, but as soon as he does, or doesn't, we'll give names and further particulars.

BROADHEAD.
K. K. K.—The ominous cry of K. K. K. is heard on every hand.

THE MASONIC LODGE.—Has received several additions lately.

WHO KNOWS?—The Somerset Reporter has a correspondent at this place. Who can it be?

IMPROVING.—Mr. John Melvin is making improvements on his farm recently purchased near this place.

Tobacco Prospects.—The farmers are sowing plant-beds, and making such other preparations as indicate a large acreage of tobacco hereabouts this year.

PERSONAL.—Mr. C. Crawford, of Pendleton, is visiting relatives here. Mr. H. H. Crenshaw has been very sick for several days, but we are glad to learn that he is recovering.

GROWING.—We are glad to see that your Broadhead subscription list is constantly growing. There are twenty-five or thirty, at least, here, who know how to appreciate a good thing. And still they come.

WAITING ON AN INSURANCE CO.—Mr. Henderson is anxiously expecting news from the Continental Insurance Company, against which he holds a policy of $1,000 on his house and gallery lately destroyed by fire.

PLASKI COUNTY.
Somerset.
No WEDDINGS—To chronicle this week.

THE FARMERS.—Are all busy plowing, and have three weeks of fine weather for it.

DIED.—On March 7th, of measles, Belle Lay, daughter of Mr. Jesse Lay, in the 9th year of her age.

A NEW BUTCHER SHOP.—Conducted by John Mendel, in the interest of Green Trimble, was established here this week.

THE HUMBLED.—The ground hog weather, which the Register seemed so sanguine would come, has run its course, and has been succeeded by delightful sunny days.

FALSE REPORT.—The report of a terrible fight at Tatesville, this county, was simply a fabrication of some imaginative mind. We have made repeated inquiries concerning it, and find that the report is groundless.

LET HER COME.—Quite a number of tinorous hearts are getting "scared up" at the old rhyme, "The world to an end shall come in 1881." Guess we will have a Democratic President by that time, anyhow.

SAPPHO IS JUST A LITTLE AHEAD.—March came in like a lamb. Watch out for the manager on the 31st, with that terrible lion which maketh people to crawl into boxes and under tables for safety, whose roar causes women's hearts to quake with fear and sendeth men to caves to preserve their lives.

A DEBATE.—At Camp Ground last Friday night between the local club and the Science Hill club resulted in favor of the former. Numerous calls were made for eminent persons who were unavoidably absent, and among the number repeated calls were made for "Bony Stone," a well known lawyer of this place, but, alas! he did not respond.

A PLACE OF IMPORTANCE.—Isn't Somerset becoming an important little village? Within less than a year three important public meetings have assembled here, i. e., the State Teachers' Association, the Democratic Congressional Convention, and now the Conference of the M. E. Church, North, is in session. It convened here on Wednesday, and a large number of divines are in attendance.

THE PROTRACTED MEETING.—That has been in progress at the Presbyterian Church for the past two weeks has been one of unusual interest. It has resulted in the conversion of forty souls and still the noble work advances. The pastor, Rev. Mr. McElroy, had decided to close the meeting last Sunday, but there was such a great interest manifested that he continued services during a part of this week. Mr. J. Hopper is assisting, adding greatly to the meetings by his lively exhortations and wonderful singing.

PERSONAL.—Mr. J. Carson has been in town for several days. Miss Maggie Hopper, of Perryville, is visiting Miss Maggie Wait. Mr. W. B. Hansford was in Cincinnati last week. Miss Tommie Hays has returned to her home in Danville, but Median Hamer says she will soon return, a bride, to Somerset. Mrs. Hily Elliott is visiting relatives here. Col. T. Z. Morrow and Col. Will Fox have been absent for several weeks, attending court in adjoining counties. Messrs. Dick and Jim Johnson have recently removed their store to South Somerset.

MADISON COUNTY.
Richmond.
SCARLET FEVER—Is prevailing in the Kingston neighborhood to an alarming extent.

GOING WEST.—Several of the young men of Richmond, will probably go to Leadville, Col., this Spring.

ALF BURNETT.—The factist, gave two of his mirth provoking performances in Green's Opera Hall, on last Thursday and Friday nights, to a good crowd.

THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION.—Of Central University, will meet in the University Chapel on next Thursday morning, and business of importance will be brought before the Association.

NOT A CANDIDATE.—Col. Harvey Chenuit, a young farmer living on Log Run, in this county, announces that he will not make the race for the Legislature, as he does not desire to enter politics.

MARRIAGE.—Wallace Edgill, a young farmer of this county, will be married on next Thursday morning to Miss Annie Chenuit, of Lexington, the eldest daughter of Mrs. David Chenuit, of that place.

ELECTRIC LIGHT.—Prof. T. W. Tobin, of Central University, has sent to Cleveland, Ohio, for one of Green's Electric Machine, and proposes, for $500 to light the town of Richmond, with Electricity. There will be three lights, one on the Court-house and one on Main, and another on Lancaster street. These three lights are to have the lighting capacity of one thousand lamps. Few here have doubts but that the Professor will succeed in his undertaking.

IN MEMORIAM.
DIED, at her residence in Lincoln county, Ky., March 1st, 1879, Mrs. Permelia Hughes, in the 61st year of her age.

Mother's Love! There is no sentiment in our language so fraught with love, heart-felt sorrow, sighs and tears as the one last expressed. What a world of thought is contained in the three simple words of which it is composed. It is here that many a mother's heart is melted in reverent love to those fond faces so faithfully beloved by her in her infancy, and those fond recollections and hallowed remembrance of our youth, when her hand was ever ready to soothe each pain, wipe away every tear, and bend every word that pierced our young hearts. And, above all, those memories recall the words of admonition which left little glowing jewels from her affectionate lips, designed to lead us on in the path of truth and virtue.

How prone we are, in health, to become forgetful of all these fond cares and instructions so graciously bestowed. We can not appreciate mother until she is gone, and then we realize that the thousand times ten thousand years would not afford time sufficient, even with the most interested strife and labor, to repay a mother for all this watchcare and protection so faithfully manifested towards us.

The two most endearing names known to us are mother and home. We have lost one, but we hope, by a change in life, to gain the other, and by so doing regain the one lost—when all the sorrows of earth shall be healed, and all the wrongs of earth forgiven. For one thing we know—mother is in heaven, and to regain her we have but to become followers of the meek and lowly Nazarene. Her patience, long-suffering and forbearance amid the many troubles of her life lead us to believe that she will receive an abundant interest in the better land—away from the world and its temptations to evil.

"It is now in corruption, it is raised in incorruption," and "We shall know as we are known," are two golden, heaven-born truths which give us more comfort than all the false, glib, pomp and pride of earth can give.

Breath of thee, mother dear,
Life to us is but a pain;
Still we hope that thou art near,
And soon we'll meet again.

A PRIMARY ELECTION.—Was held in this District on last Saturday, for the purpose of nominating a Democratic candidate to make the race for Commonwealth's Attorney. The two candidates were Mr. J. M. Adams, of Scott, and Mr. C. J. Branton, of this county. The vote in Madison, stands 1,880 for Branton, and 15 for Adams. Branton's majority in the district is about 1,000.

AN AFFRAY.—On last Saturday, a short time after the close of the polls an affray occurred in the town of Beres, in the Glade precinct, in this county, in which Jim and Eph Mitchell, two brothers, being drunk, sought, without provocation, a quarrel with Wm. Harris, an old soldier of Custer's command, in which Harris fired two shots, one taking effect in Jim Mitchell's leg, and the other in Eph Mitchell's breast. The Mitchell's neither were armed, and as all the parties have the reputation of being desperate men, the end of the trouble is thought, has not yet come.

PERSONAL.—Our game town Marshall, C. K. Oldham, is still suffering with a very severe attack of inflammatory rheumatism. Miss Lucy Gibson, of Somerset, is visiting her uncle, Mr. W. H. Gibson, of this place. Will G. McKinney, of Stanford, spent several days with his brother here, this week. Miss Lillie Baker, a charming young lady of Shelbyville, who has been visiting Miss Lucille Crook, of this place, left for her home on last Tuesday. Many wished her stay could have been protracted. Prof. DeRoode, of Lexington, was in town this week instructing the young ladies in the art of music.

RELIGIOUS.—Dr. J. W. Pratt preached on last Sunday in Dr. Skinner's Church, in Cincinnati. The Rev. Mr. Benton, of Danville, has been holding daily services in the Episcopal Church in this place, this week. The members of the Methodist Church are enjoying a protracted meeting. Rev. Dr. Evans is the preacher. Mr. J. C. Young closed a series of Bible Readings at this place, in the Christian Church, on last Thursday night, and on Friday night gave his "Lecture on Egypt and Constantinople" for the benefit of the widows and orphans of the yellow fever victims of Mecklenburg City, Miss. There was a large crowd present, and his descriptions of manners, customs and habits of Oriental life, were glowing, and when he came to speak of the ancient monuments, his eloquence was simply grand, and had the tendency to hold his listeners spell bound. The proceeds of the lecture amounted to about $45. Mr. Young left for his home on Saturday morning.

WAYNE COUNTY.
Monticello.
CLOSING.—Prof. Wilmington's school closed on last Friday.

IN HIS OLD QUARTER.—Logan Salles, of color, who escaped jail here some weeks ago, was recaptured in Boyle county, and is now in jail.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.—Have been issued to Henry Guffey and Sarah Hoover; John P. Morrow and Harriet Bryant; James P. Sloan and Rhoda Clark.

GARDENING.—The Spring-like weather of the last week, has induced our citizens, en masse, to put in their gardens. Potatoes, peas, onions, lettuce, &c., have all been planted.

A SHOOTING AFFRAY.—Occurred in Mullenstown precinct a few days ago between Shelby Bell and James Clinch, in which the latter received a slight wound in the abdomen.

SEVERELY CUT.—A difficulty occurred a few nights ago on Beaver Creek, between John Russell and a man named Strunk, in which Russell received a severe cut on the back. No arrest.

A DISCOVERY.—A quarry of fine Lithographic stone has been discovered on the premises of B. W. Duncan, Esq., two miles South of this place. Mr. Strother Banks, of Louisville, took a lease on the quarry, and proposes to develop it right away.

RELIGIOUS.—Elder J. Stanley has been preaching to the Christian Church at this place for the past two weeks. His discourses have generally been quite able, and a good deal of interest manifested on the part of his auditors, but no additions to Church as yet.

A SUCCESS.—The supper at the Court-house on the evening of the 4th inst., for the benefit of the Church, proved a success. About sixty dollars realized, which will be sufficient, it is supposed, to complete the repairs necessary on the Union Church building.

PERSONAL.—Mr. James A. McGee, teller of the National Bank at Somerset, has been spending several days with friends here. Mrs. Hise and an adopted daughter, of Martinsville, Ind., have been visiting Mrs. Henry Huffaker. Colonel Robert Metcalfe and family, late of Texas, after a few weeks' visit at Mrs. Berry's, started a few days since for their future home in Southern California.

Don't send elsewhere to get your printing, when you can get it done at the INTERIOR JOURNAL office, just as good, and just as cheap. Remember where you go, when you want a "handy" job done, and patronize your home folks.

Why will you suffer with Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint, Constipation, and general debility, when you can get at our store Shiloh's System Vitalizer which we sell on a positive guarantee to cure you. Price 10 cts. and 25 cts. For sale by Chennault & Penny, Stanford.

DON'T BE DECEIVED.—Many persons say "I haven't got the Consumption" when asked to cure their Cough with Shiloh's Consumption Cure. Do they not know that Coughs lead to Consumption and a remedy that will cure Consumption will certainly and surely cure a cough or any lung or throat trouble. We know it will cure when all others fail and our faith in it is so positive that we will refund the price paid if you receive no benefit. It is not this a fair proposition? Price 10 cts. 50 cts. and $1 per bottle. For James Chennault, Black or Side, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Price 25 cts. For sale by Chennault & Penny, Stanford.

FRANK LESLIE'S SUNDAY MAGAZINE.—The April number of this highly popular periodical is promptly on our table, and fully maintains its well deserved reputation as one of the best, in every respect, published. As this may be regarded as an Easter number, the leader is a deeply interesting Easter story, entitled "Winona," by Mary G. Hollister, Missionary at Aintab, Turkey. This is followed by a very instructive paper on "Some Eastern Customs," by Mr. Geoffrey A. Hudson. Mr. Heman's beautiful poem is reproduced—"Easter Day in a Mountain Churchyard." Among the stories is one of thrilling character, "On the Edge of a Glacier." "David Fleming's Forgiveness" continues to grow in interest. Thomas Middleton has an admirable story, "Dr. Ellerton's Own Case." We have not space to enumerate the contents of this richly freighted publication, filling 128 quarto pages, and embracing every style of literature. The illustrations are profuse, and of great artistic merit, adding not a little to the interest and popularity of the Sunday Magazine which is certainly a national cheapness, the subscription being only $3 per annum, postpaid, a single copy 25 cts. Address, Frank Leslie's Publishing House, 53, 55 and 57, Park Place, New York.

PERSONAL.

Miss ANNE CRAIG spent several days in Lancaster this week.

Mr. W. G. McKINNEY is at home again, looking in excellent health and spirits.

Mr. Wm. Wagoner, of Somerset, is visiting the family of John M. Hall, Esq.

Dr. J. B. OWLEY, Cashier of the Farmers' National Bank, has gone to St. Louis, Mo.

Miss JUDITH GUEST, a Boyle county beauty, was a guest of Mrs. Asher Wesley this week.

Mr. D. W. VANDEVER, who was badly hurt by falling through a cellar door, is again able to move.

THOMAS BECKWITH returned yesterday from Peabody, Kansas, where he has decided to locate.

Miss HELEN CHENEY, who has been visiting in Richmond, has returned to Dr. Montgomery's.

JENNIE G. W. McCLURE and Mr. Jack Adams, Jr., of Mr. Vernon, made us a pleasant call yesterday.

Rev. H. BLAIN left on Tuesday for Knoxville, Tennessee, to visit his son-in-law, Mr. H. H. Hall, who is reported quite ill.

MESSRS. JAS. B. AND WM. H. SIMPSON left Wednesday for Harpersburg, where they expect to make their future home.

Mrs. W. G. MITCHELL, of Louisville, wife of one of the best engineers on the L. & N. R. R., spent last Sunday with her husband at the Junction.

CHARLES WEBB, who has been doing the heavy lifting work on the Somerset piers for some time past, has returned home, disgusted with the newspaper business.

Two of the finest of the fair, accompanied by handsome escorts, lightened the labor of getting out of this office of their agreeable presence last Thursday night. Please help us again.

FOUNTAIN F. ROBERTS was here this week with nearly printed copies of his eloquent speech in the Holmes trial, and disposed of quite a number of copies. It is strictly nonpartisan, but it will pay a careful perusal.

PETER HAYTORY, of Lincoln county, found some good "outlets" at a Louisville Hotel that he writes THE INTERIOR JOURNAL all about it. Guess he could tell something of "back-ack and inners" way down in Georgia.—(Jessement Column.)

Mr. LEE BEASON, representing the reliable clothing house of Julius Winter & Co., of Louisville, is in town with an extra lot of samples that he proposes exhibiting to-day to those meeting Spring suits. His reputation as a caterer is so great, and we hope he will be liberally patronized here.

The following subscribers have favored us since our last issue: A. G. McRoberts, Vermillion, Ill.; Miss E. Blankenship, High Hill, Mo.; Bobt. F. Edmiston, Greenfield, Ill.; W. E. LOCAL MATTERS.

NORTHERN SEED POTATOES at Weston & Evans'.

FLOWER POTS in great variety to arrive next week. Weston & Evans.

A FARM BELL that you can hear two miles, for $5. Weston & Evans.

THE DANVILLE FAIR GROUND.—Will be sold at auction at the April County Court.

The past week has been for the most part bright and beautiful, the thermometer ranging at noon from 56 to 78°.

GAMBLING.—Miss Embury, colored, was held in $300 bail for gambling, by Police Judge G. A. C. Rochester, this week.

QUARTERLY COURT.—About 75 cases were disposed of by Judge Brown in the two-day's session of the Quarterly Court this week.

SALE OF LOT.—Mr. J. N. Davis has purchased of Dr. P. W. Logan, his lot adjoining Mr. Asher Wesley, for $600, and will commence the erection of two handsome residences at once.

A. A. WARREN has just received a lot of the new No. 8 Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machines. These machines are perfect models of ingenuity, simplicity and beauty. Call and see them.

THE NEW STREET.—Contractor Henry Baughman has commenced work on the new street leading from Main to the Depot, and in a short time the long needed thoroughfare will be ready for use.

AN EPIDEMIC.—The diphtheritic sore-throat, as the Doctors call it, is an epidemic here, and not many in our town have escaped a taste with it. The attack lasts about five days, during which time the patient suffers greatly.

A SUGGESTION.—Wm. F. Kennedy, indicted for the murder of Frank Johnson, in 1866, might help his case considerably by surrendering himself to the authorities and demanding a trial. It would at least save of his own conviction of innocence.

BUFFALO CEMETERY.—Squire J. S. Murphy has just completed some needed improvements at the Cemetery, such as leveling, sodding, increasing its size, &c., and now if rows of trees were planted in it, it is beauty would be greatly increased. Can't it be done?

FORGIVENESS.—Mrs. Daugherty, the venerable mother of Mr. Wm. Daugherty, of this place, is 81 years old, never had a day's sickness in her life, and even to this day she can do all the work of a younger woman. She is a stranger. Few women half her age can say as much.

ONE DOLLAR buys at Weston & Evans' 13 lbs. choice No. 6 Sugar, 9 lbs. granulated sugar, 6 lbs. good coffee, 8 lbs. cream cheese, 33 lbs. hominy, 25 lbs. navy beans, 20 lbs. dried peaches, 25 lbs. dried apples, 4 packages starch, or 15 lbs. blue India soap. No goods charged at above prices.

TO THE PUBLIC.—In a few days one of the firms of Hayden Brothers will start East to lay in a large and attractive stock of goods for Spring and Summer. Meantime, they will receive invoices of all novelties in the goods line for ladies' wear, &c., and from now on, until their full new stock is opened, they will offer the public nearly any article in their store for about cost and carriage. They are determined to clean out the old stock at the people's own prices.

DANVILLE COURT NOTES.—Freeman Parry's new trial resulted in a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree and a sentence for life to the Penitentiary. Majajah Rowser, charged with the murder of George Phillips, nine years ago, was acquitted. This was Rowser's second trial, the first having occurred eighteen months ago, when he was convicted of manslaughter and his punishment fixed at two years in the Penitentiary. He obtained a new trial, with the above result.

PRETTIER STILL.—Every season brings around something new in the calico line of goods, and we observe that Messrs. Hayden Brothers have just received a fresh lot of new Spring styles, which are prettier than any we have ever seen. They are just the shade and color to suit for early Spring wear, and girls, middle-aged, and elderly ladies will find in the assortment something to suit each of them. The prices are low down too. This firm also received other kinds of new goods recently.

WAR CLAIMS.—The last Congress passed favorably on the war claims of persons in this and adjoining counties, as follows: Lincoln—Silas Anderson, $75; Wm. F. Coffey, $75; Catherine Peland, widow of Maj. Peland, $125; Pulaski—Nathan Jacobs, $200; Wm. Shadown, $250; Wm. R. Smith, $100; Boyle—Felix Bruce, $115; R. P. Jacobs, Adm'r. of Taylor Service, $541.20; Chris. K. Kirkland, $305.50; Rockcastle—H. C. Brooks, Adm'r. of Tolbert Bowman, $262.50; Sam'l Newsum, $90; John Purcell, $290; Estate of Wm. Roberts, $171; A. J. Singleton, $200.50.

THE HOP AT ST. ASAPH.—The thought, happily conceived by several of our gallant young men to add to the enjoyment of a number of visiting ladies by giving a Hop in their honor, was brilliantly carried into execution at the St. Asaph Hotel on Friday night last.

Capt. Richards, with his usual cleverness, opened wide the doors of his Hotel, and did every thing in his power to add to the comfort and pleasure of the guests. The spacious dining-room was cleared and brightly lighted, and though every thing was in readiness by eight, Dame Fashion had decreed that half past nine was the proper hour, so it was not until that time that the couples one by one appeared on the floor. When at last they all arrived and the Band, an excellent one from Danville, struck up a lively waltz, the picture that then met the eye was beautiful in the extreme, and we defy any place, at any time, numbers considered, to show such an array of beauty, loveliness and grace as was presented. Beauties from a distance vied with our lovely home girls in forming the charming array, and if the gentlemen who took part in the festivities did not appreciate "the glory of the situation," they must have had a heart of stone or else was a driving noodle. A number of married ladies, and other spectators were present, and seemed to enjoy themselves greatly in witnessing the enjoyment of the young folks. We would not have our readers think that all the young ladies whose names are given below participated in the unparelleled dance (as many old fogies consider it) of dancing, for such is not the case, but a big majority of them glided through the maye so gracefully and prettily that we believe, if he could have been there, the most chaste old deacon would have admired. To a couple of kind lady friends we are indebted for assistance in the following list of

WHO WERE THERE, AND WHAT THEY WORE. The following young ladies from a distance most royally represented their respective localities:

Miss Mary Getty, Solis, Mo., bourette and blue silk; diamonds.

Miss Kate Bailey, Shelbyville, Ky., black silk and velvet, point lace; jet.

Miss Jennie Wright, Nicholasville, black silk and velvet.

Miss Judith Guest, Danville, black silk and velvet; diamonds.

Miss Lillie Foster, Lexington, black silk and velvet; gold.

Miss Nellie Reid, Garretts, Tennessee, jet trimming; diamonds.

Miss Nannette, Winchester, Ky., state-colored cashmere and silk.

Miss Mattie Getty, Boyle county, black satin and velvet; silk, diamonds and pearls.

CRAB ORCHARD. Had one sweet little representative in the person of Miss Jennie Buchanan, plain and black gown; fine, cameo.

HITCHCOCKVILLE. Noted for its pretty girls, sent the following handsome delegations:

Miss ———, black cashmere, red trimming; corals.

Miss T. Logan, plain-colored silk and velvet.

Miss Kate Logan, gray cashmere, blue and black velvet trimming.

FROM THE COUNTRY. The representation was small, but attractive:

Miss Ellen Engleman, black silk, pink trimming; pearls.

Miss Bettie Harris, garnet cashmere and velvet.

Miss Mary Getty, best brown cashmere and silk.

WHILE STANFORD. Fairly outside herself in the persons of the following:

Miss Lucy Hosker, gray silk and black velvet; jet trimmings.

Miss Lettie Hela, black cashmere, white trimmings.

Miss Julia F. Craig, bronze silk and velvet; jet trimmings; diamonds.

Miss Annie Brown, black top silk and velvet.

Miss Kate Richards, black cashmere and silk; diamonds.

Miss Florence Treasheart, black cashmere and silk; coral and gold.

Miss Pansy McKinney, brown silk and velvet; coral.

Miss Annie Alcorn, best brown silk and velvet; pink cameo.

Miss Lucy Bessley, pink tulle, white lace.

Miss Jennie Richards, black cashmere and velvet.

Miss Ellen Harris, black cashmere and satin.

Miss Belle Livingston, wine-colored silk and velvet.

The following young gentlemen were in attendance: Messrs. W. H. Getty, J. R. and Richard Dunlap, Danville; J. C. Houshally, John Harris, Lancaster; R. C. Dye, C. B. Reid, Frank Lee, Harpersburg; S. B. Matheny, Cincinnati; Sam Harris, J. B. Getty, T. R. Kennedy, R. R. Getty, Jr., H. H. Getty, Lincoln; E. R. Hayden, E. F. Owens, J. W. Hayden, Dr. P. C. Craig, J. T. Craig, J. C. Davis, Allen Rowser, J. W. McAlister, Joseph McAlister, Joe L. Grimes, Dr. L. F. Hoffman, Dr. O. H. McRoberts and A. G. Hoffman, Jr., Stanford.

The festivities were prolonged until a late hour, and when at last the gay revelers left for their homes it was with evident reluctance, for the evening had been one of genuine enjoyment, and the memory of it will be treasured for years. The young men who had the management of the affair are to be congratulated for the handsome manner in which every thing was conducted, and the triumphant success of their undertaking.

MARRIAGES.

PHILIPS—TOWNSHIP.—Mr. Dempsey Phelps, of Casey county, and Miss Jane Townbridge, of this county, were made one this week.

RANSOM—GOODLOE.—Gen. H. P. Ransom, the experienced Gen'l Ticket Agent of the Kentucky Central R. R. was married in Lexington yesterday to Mrs. Marie E. Goodloe.

TURNER—DELANEY.—John Turner, who is three-score years and four, and has three times tried the bliss of married life, entered into his fourth contract of the kind, yesterday, with Miss Sarah Jane Delaney, a young lady just forty-two years his junior.

CHOLERA.—Hogs are still dying with cholera in this section.

ANNOUNCEMENT.—Rev. Wm. Linney will preach at Bright's School-house next Sunday at 11 o'clock.

WOMEN MAKE THE RACE.—Mr. L. P. Hubble has declined to become a candidate for the Legislature.

SCHOOL.—Prof. T. F. Baker commenced teaching the district school at Bright's School-house last Monday.

PUTTING 'EM IN TUNE.—Mr. A. Deimer, a piano tuner, of Lexington, has been in this neighborhood tuning pianos.

SICK.—Mr. John H. Engleman has been suffering intensely for several days from the effects of having a tooth extracted.

FOUND IT A TIREDSOME BUSINESS.—Being somewhat tired of reading postal cards will send in our letter on this week.

PROSPECTS FOR A FINE CHURCH.—It is currently reported that there will be a fine Church built in this vicinity this Spring.

LAND SALE.—Mr. Thomas Wood sold to Dave Spoonamore, 75 acres of land, known as part of the uncle Jimmie Harlan farm at $22 per acre.

THE STAGE LINE.—Between Danville and Lancaster via this place, has been bought by Messrs. B. M. Burdett and Jas. Griffin, of Lancaster. They have placed on the road a twelve-passenger coach, and have some number one horses, so they are fully prepared to accommodate the traveling public. They will also carry the Express.

SPEED THE PLOW.—We have had a fine week for the farmers, who are singing "speed the plow," with illustrations.

LUMBER.—Soc Owens has a large lot of excellent lumber of various kinds, which he offers at the lowest figures of the present depressed rates.

BLACKBERRY AND MOSQUITO.—The halcyon air of the last week is dangerous to the blackberry and mosquito, which are probably the only fruits which are not already killed.

PUTTING THEM IN THEIR LITTLE GRAVES.—Sanguine gardeners are busy burying Landreth's choicest seeds in the cold earth, from which they will never see a resurrection.

FLOWER PITS.—Open disastrously. The geranium family seems to have been an especial sufferer. Its blackened members give a lively idea of the transition from vegetable to carbon.

A CASE FOR THE ENQUIRER.—By the leave of the Cincinnati Enquirer we would report that a few days since a young colored lady who was visiting a relative near this place, complained of feeling unwell during the night, and went out. She did not return, and has not been heard of since. About the second morning after her departure, the body of an infant of very ten-

LAND, STOCK AND CROP.

E. B. Kennedy sold to Mr. Sandridge, a nice 4-year-old gelding for $100.

Gen. W. T. Withers, of Fayette county, sold several young trotters last week, at from $900 to $1,000 each.

Large quantities of wheat is now being shipped from Chicago to Liverpool via New York at forty cents per hundred.

Decken & Walker, of Clinton county, sold this week to Col. T. P. Hill, 20 three-year-old steers at $35 per head. They have forty more on hand in the neighborhood.

G. W. ALCORN bought of parties this week, in Rockcastle, 19 mules, 1 year old, and averaging 15 hands, at $75 per head. He also bought one horse, the get of his stallion, Screamer, for $95.

Sixteen hogs raised near Bordenstown, N. J., weighed, dressed, 335, 792, 788, 695, 570, 635, 626, 619, 695, 590, 580, 612, 604, 566, 550 and 539, an average of 643½ pounds and a total of 10,291 pounds.

LEXINGTON CATTLE.—Over 1,000 cattle on sale, chiefly common. Good cattle in demand at 4½¢; sales averaged 5¢. Mules in demand at $90 to $120; horses in improved demand. Sales, one colt, $165, another for $85.50, and two for $100. Plugs $10 to $75. Business looking up.

John McElroy sold to Joseph Spalding, Esq., 17 head medium mules, at $55 per head. Mr. Spalding shipped them on Friday, to New Orleans.—John McElroy sold to Messrs. Thornton & Dood, 15 head of nice beef cattle, average weight 1,200, at $50 per head.—(Lancaster Standard.)

LOUISVILLE.—Cattle are a shade lower and trade dull. Good to extra sheep, 4½ to 4¼; best butchers, 4 to 4¼; medium, 3½ to 3¼; thin to common, 2 to 2¼. Hogs are 15 to 25 cents lower than last week; choice, $4 to $4.25; fair to good, $3.65 to $3.85; common to good light, $2.75 to $3.25. Market active for all good wethers of 100 pounds; extra, 4 to 5; common to medium, 2½ to 3½ cents.

The Treasury Department is advised that arrangements for the shipment of cattle to England from Baltimore have been made and will begin on Saturday. Cattle are shipped to Baltimore from Chicago, as the State of Maryland has no law regarding the inspection of cattle imported or for exportation. The Secretary of the Treasury will designate a veterinary surgeon to inspect all cattle before shipment.

Wheat has gone up to 80 and 82 cents, and corn has jumped to $2.50 per bushel in our market.—J. A. Forrest & Co., of Memphis, report the mule market brisk at $75 to $120, and $40 to $100 for horses.—W. B. Kidd returned Monday night from New Orleans. He sold 58 mules, 20 of them averaging 14 hands 1 inch high, at $72.25, and 19 head averaging 15 hands, at $104.50, and the remaining 19 averaging over 15 hands, at $106.50. Trade has been brisk all through February.—(Winchester Democrat.)

Mr. R. H. Crow, of this county, writes us as follows from Atlanta, Ga.: "For the past two months, until recently, the market has been brisk for mules, at low figures, the range of prices being from $60 to $140; the latter figures being the exception and not the rule. I think most of the stock men have done moderately well this season." Mr. Crow speaks in high terms of the Livestock Stables of Messrs. Clint Taylor, J. F. Redd, W. O. Jones and Boas & Broadus, and warmly recommends them to the patronage of the stock men of Kentucky.

DIED.—On the night of 9th inst., John Wesley, son of Wm. and Larinda Long, aged 16 months. He was interred in the M. E. Church-yard at Pleasant Hill, to rest until the resurrection morning.

TRIBUTE TO A PASTOR.—Rev. J. M. Cook has gone to attend the Kentucky Conference of the Methodist Church, North, which met at Somerset on the 12th. He has been the pastor at Pleasant Hill six years, and has lived in our neighborhood about four years. He has been a faithful pastor, and his conduct, both public and private, has been that of a Christian gentleman. According to the law of the Church to which he belongs, he must go to another field of labor, and he will have to leave many warm friends that are loth to give him up, and wish wherever his lot may be cast that they will receive him with a hearty greeting, and that he may by his earnest preaching do much good in the name of Christ.

GARRARD COUNTY.

CHUCKLES.—The smooth white leaves of the adventurous crocus peep above the ground.

YOT ARE, THEREFORE, IN TIME.—No reporter has as yet said any thing about March coming in like a lion, &c.

GONE GLIMMERING.—Capt. Blair has taken passage for some foreign port where the torts of the law can not reach him.

COURT MATTERS.—Quarterly Court here next Monday. Geo. W. Dunlap, Jr., argued the case of Freeman Farris in Danville on Thursday night before a crowded house. Verdict—Penitentiary for life, instead of the former decree of hanging.

RELIGIOUS.—Elder L. J. Allen preached at Antioch on Sunday, thereby inaugurating his ministerial services at that church. A meeting was called at the Christian Church for the purpose of appointing a protracted meeting here at some period in the near future.

THE STAGE LINE.—Between this place and Danville has become quite a feature in the annuals of the town. Messrs. Burdett and Griffin will eventually succeed in conveying passengers with great comfort and speed from our city to Little Britain. Already the route has won golden praise from itinerants.

ORANGE BLOSSOMS.—At Hyattsville, on Thursday, 6th inst., Miss Mary E. Scott to Mr. George Lunsford, and Miss Jennie Lunsford to Mr. W. H. Scott. On Thursday, 13th inst., at Mr. H. C. Jennings' residence, near town, Miss Fannie E. Lusk to Mr. Gideon L. Tally. Ceremony by Elder Allen. Particulars next week.

MYTTEN-DESTROYING CAMPAIGN.—On Friday night an enterprising fugitive of the canine species executed barbarous inroads upon the corporeal equanimity of thirty scions of a muttonic race belonging to Dr. H. C. Herring; thereupon leaving scarcely a caudal appendage to vibrate a requiem to departed joys after the manner of Mary's diminutive pursuder hours, was found dead in a puddle of water near the house which she had left.

THE TERRORS OF THE LAW.—Had an amusing illustration here a few days after the Milledgeville negro riot. Cesar Minor, who is as eloquent as any elon heard Roman of the race, besides being possessed of considerable histrionic power, had given several rehearsals of the scene, blending the ludicrous and the pathetic with the tragic and the terrible, with marked effect. A young lawyer of Stanford, having heard of Cesar's graphic delineations, interviewed him. But Cesar could not be fooled into the belief that a lawyer could investigate any matter simply for the fun of the thing. He was, therefore, rigidly reticent. At length being persistently badgered, he darkened counsel thus: "Don't know who was dar, didn't see no body, s'ed dat pistol, co'ch my in my left hand, step' on de table wid my right, de lord tuk out de winder sash—an I didn't see nothin' else but three miles of dat pike." The lawyer hasn't made out his case yet.

MARRIES.—Seem to be the favorite game of the old men and boys of this place.

STORE REMOVAL.—Mr. Andrew Egbert has removed his stock of drugs to the store formerly occupied by Dr. Lake, on Lancaster street.

A HOR.—At the Harris House Monday night was given in honor of Mr. Will E. Lee, one of the most gallant gentlemen that comes to Crab Orchard.

ENTIRELY TOO NICE.—These nice moonlight evenings bring out the gallant recollections. How delightful it is to be recalled from dreamland by heavenly strains of music.

HURRY, IF YOU WOULD BE IN TIME.—Miss Mattie Coleman will remain here but a few weeks longer, those who wish portraits made should send their orders without delay.

A GREAT BIG LAW.—The young lady of whom we spoke last week, as being a sparkling little lass, is, we understand, highly offended because we called her a little lass. We meant no offense, and humbly beg her pardon, and also, leave to add that she is a grown young lady on the shady side of twenty.

FISHING PARTY.—The ever kind and obliging Mr. John Ballard, procured Tatum's last Saturday afternoon, and took a number of young ladies and gentlemen to Dix River, fishing. Not a single fish was hit, but after waiting patiently for two hours for a nibble, Walter Edmiston had the pleasure of seeing his cork go under, and giving a desperate pull, he landed the finest—"water dog" you ever saw. Every body had a splendid time, of course.

PERSONAL.—Mr. H. B. Farris, of Louisville, came like a beam of sunshine last Friday to his many friends at this place. His handsome, smiling face is always welcome in Crab Orchard, his old home.

Mrs. Mays, sister of Mr. Tarrant, who has been in very delicate health for several weeks, left Tuesday morning for her home in the sunny South, where her anxious friends in this community hope she will be benefited. She was accompanied by Miss Mattie Coleman, a sweet, modest young lady, who has been attending school here since last August. Many are the regrets at Miss Mattie's departure, for, by her gentle, loving manner, she won the esteem of all who met her. We hope she will, at no distant day, gladden our hearts again by her presence.

DIED.—On the night of 9th inst., John Wesley, son

An incident related a short time since by Judge Bradford, of the Chattanooga Circuit Court, alluding to his father, who was a citizen of Jefferson county, Tenn., and for many years Sheriff of said county, and who was a gunsmith, and presented to his then neighbor and friend, David Crockett, a fine gun. Bradford was also a Justice of the Peace, and performed the marriage ceremony between Crockett and his wife, Miss Findley, and also between Tipton and his wife, for whom Tipton county, Tenn., was named, and between Gen'l William Brazleton and his wife, Miss Reese, sister of Hon. W. B. Reese, for many years Supreme Judge of Tennessee, and whose second wife, now living, was Miss Brown, of Frankfort, Ky.

This incident reminds the writer of many incidents of the early history of his native State, and the names of those who were the associates of Crockett and Bradford, many of whom have left their impress upon the history of their country, and whose names and memories will go down to future ages as among the ablest Statesmen and lawyers of their day and generation.

Crocket was born in the State of Franklin, the first born State to the old 13, and the associate of his youth and early manhood were the first Governor of that State, Sevier, whose bones now lie almost unmarked upon the Coosie, and Blunt, Houston, Bradford, Brazleton, Cooke, Williams, Ray, White, Reese, Peck, Clay, Lea, Bunch, and Jarnagin. All these spent their early years in East Tennessee, embracing the territory of the short-lived State of Franklin. Many of them distinguished themselves both in the wars of our country with Great Britain and the Indian wars, and also in our National councils. Sevier, Ray and Jackson were in the Revolutionary struggle; Cooke was a General in the war with the Creeks; Houston, Crockett, White, Williams and Bunch distinguished themselves with the Indians, which was terminated by the battle of the Horse Shoe and the surrender of Weatherford, their Chief, and the almost annihilation of the tribe. Of all these illustrious characters, there are now remains, Hon. Pryor Lea, now of Texas, but for four years a member of Congress from the Knoxville (Tenn.) District, under the administration of General Jackson.

Clay, Cooke, Lea and Bunch were raised in Grainger county, and Peck, Reese and Crockett in Jefferson in the neighborhood of Mossy Creek; White, Williams and Jarnagin in Knox, and Houston in Blount—all of them near the same river, the Holston, upon the banks of which they spent their early manhood, and near which the bones of Cooke, Bunch, White, Williams, Jarnagin, Peck, Reese, Brazleton, Bradford and McKinney now repose.

Clay, after a brilliant and honored life in Alabama, died in that State, his worthy mantle falling on his son and namesake, C. C. Clay, one of the connecting links of the 18th and 19th centuries.

In the exciting times of Jackson's administration the writer, then a boy, can well remember having seen many of these characters, Jackson, White, Bunch, Jarnagin, Cooke, Reese, Peck and Brazleton, and in his boyhood has heard them talk over the issues then agitating the country.

But it is to the incidents connected with Crockett that the writer would particularly refer. After his marriage in Jefferson county he removed to near Winchester and settled, and when the war with the Creeks Indians broke out he volunteered under Geo. W. Jones, for many years a Congressman, and participated in the battles with the Indians under Weatherford, and was present at the bloody battle of the Horse Shoe. After the war he was elected to the Legislature, and was in the session of 1823 with J. K. Polk, and voted for John Williams, of Knoxville, for U. S. Senator, against Gen. Jackson, who then had been nominated for President in 1824. For this vote, Jackson and his friends took umbrage, and though he afterwards was a member of Congress and sustained in part Jackson's first administration, yet for this and his course on the removal of the deposits by Jackson he was defeated for Congress by Adam Huntsman, being then a citizen of Weekly county, West Tennessee. After his defeat he with his family and his trusty rifle sought a home in Texas, then struggling for independence against the Mexicans under Santa Anna, and entered upon a course of daring and usefulness in the assistance of his countrymen, Houston and others, in the struggle for independence, and fell covered with the slain in the bloody battle and massacre of the Alamo, with his trusty rifle in his grasp.

An incident is related by Crockett in his writings while a member of Congress, which had much to do in building up schools in Tennessee and the Southwest for the education of the blind. On a visit to New England, he visited the Blind School at Boston, and, on his return home, gave an account of it. This history fell into the hands of some boys who read it to their blind brother who was so interested that it was read to him until it was committed to memory. It made such an impression upon the boy that he determined to go to that School. James Champlin, the boy, was born at Blain's Cross Roads, in the house of the writer's father about the year 1820. His parents were from New England and his father was a clock peddler. James was the third child and third son, and the writer knew him well. His parents, after remaining in the neighborhood for years, moved to Overton Co., Tenn. They had ten children, five blind and five who could see, every other one being blind. While at school at Livingston or near there, the account of the Blind School by Crockett fell into the hands of the family, as above alluded to. James left his parents and went to Boston. After many difficulties, he reached the Blind School. Being without means, they could not grant him the privileges of the School, but kindly instructed him in the alphabet, taught him to read, gave him the raised charts, books and many other assistants to study, and he returned to his parents. After remaining for a time, he went to Ohio and acquired a fine education, and, while there, wrote a history of his life, and by sale of this book, raised funds, married, and with assistance of others, established Blind Schools at Nashville, Tenn., Jackson, Miss., and other places, and thus contributed to the education of many blind children who otherwise would have remained in ignorance, and been helpless charges upon their parents and country. Champlin, years ago, preached a sermon in Crab Orchard, Ky., and was afterwards in Stanford. The writer was present and heard the sermon.

How fondly we should remember the name of Crockett, and point to his actions and energy and sayings as worthy of our highest consideration. "Be sure you are right, then go ahead," will always be remembered. Though seemingly of rough exterior and powerful frame, within was encased a true and noble heart, that ever beat kindly for the weak and bowed down. His arm was ever ready to defend the right and protect the weak. His home was ever open to the emigrant and hunter, who sought shelter and rest. He was ever ready to sympathize with the needy and dispense his hospitalities to the poor. He offered up his life as a sacrifice to the cause of Texas Independence, and fell with his brave comrades, his trusty rifle, a present from the Whig Young Men of Philadelphia, in his hand, covered with the slain.

His tragic and barbarous death caused others from his native State and the South to hasten to the rescue and theatre of war, and amid the smoke of battle and the roar of musketry the cry of the gallant and the brave could have been heard. Remember Crockett and the Alamo; remember Bowie and Travis; remember Fannin and the Mier massacre; remember the brave and the dead, and with enthusiasm, heedless of danger they rushed on with indiscriminate slaughter until the flag of the Lone Star was hoisted in triumph under the gallant leader and comrade of Crockett and Jackson, and the conquered and beaten in the battle of San Jacinto, and the wily leader, Santa Anna, taken from the tree amid the branches of which he had taken shelter for concealment and borne amid huzzas to a prisoner of war, Houston was declared President of the Lone Star State, and the Independence of Texas was secured.

R. BLAIN, Stanford, Ky., Mar. 5, 1879.

Rules to Prevent Suffering.

1. Never go any body's security unless you have the money already in hand to pay the debt.
2. Avoid debt as you would fire and brimstone, for out of debt, out of danger.
3. Before going to bed, if you are a housekeeper, see that all the fires are secure, and that no lights are burning, especially near window curtains with an open window.
4. Never run on frozen ground unless a mad bull is after you.
5. Never throw a burning match on the floor.
6. Never kindle the fire with kerosene oil, nor trim your lamp except in day time; this rule observed will save many lives and much suffering every year.
7. Don't handle powder after night, or near a fire; if some time goes off, when you go up.
8. Never throw broken glass into the street, it may cause painful wounds to the shoeless poor.
9. When crossing the railroad track look both ways and in front at the same time, and don't stop for an instant.
10. Never carry an umbrella or cane under your arm, for stopping suddenly, a person behind you may have his eye poked out.

"Georgie," said a devoted young mother of our acquaintance to her very juvenile son, "you can not have another cookie till you ask for it properly." "Please, for Christ's sake, Amen," said little innocence, with immediately folded hands.

The Largest Farm in the World.

Let your readers imagine, if they can, one undivided estate of 50,000 acres, extending twelve miles along the fertile bottom lands of a most beautiful river, and then back into the interior eleven miles more, the whole covering an area of over thirty square miles, and they will acquire some idea of the broad acres ruled by the farmer prince. Of this, 20,000 acres were this year sown in wheat, which has yielded 250,000 bushels as a reward for the husbandman's toil, for this is the wheat that was sown in good ground and yielded all of it a hundred fold. The soil of this Red River farm is peculiarly rich, and adapted to the production of just the cereal cultivated. The upper surface is an alluvial deposit of great fertility, under which is a deposit of marl, containing in large quantities just the phosphates and silicates needed in the formation of the berry and the stalk of wheat. In fact, it seems as though the Creator had especially designed this section of the country as the wheat garden of the world, which, like the coal fields, has been undergoing a process of change for ages, that it might finally afford sustenance to so many millions of his children. Of course it would be impossible to operate such a farm from one headquarters, so the land is apportioned into subdivisions of two thousand acres each, every one of which is presided over by a superintendent, who is under the direction and orders of Mr. Dalrymple. He hires what men he requires, and discharges them for cause. Each chief overseer has a very nice house, in most cases handsomely fitted up, and finished in several instances in most excellent taste. Near the superintendent's house is the hands' boarding-house, where all the harvesters board. Back of these buildings are located the graneries and stables, and a little further removed the machine shop, engine-rooms and windmills. All the buildings form a plain but quite attractive style of architecture and answer every purpose intended. Each subdivision has the same set of buildings and is operated in quite the same way. To run the farm it requires the services of 450 men and over 300 horses and mules. To keep the accounts three book-keepers are kept constantly busy, and two cashiers have little time to loaf during working hours. Water is pumped by windmills several miles back into the interior from the river. Seventy-five Wood's reapers and binders are used in the harvest, and pile up the yellow sheaves at the rate of 1,000 acres per day. During the entire harvest season last year they were retarded only one-half day by inclement weather. The grain is separated from the straw by eighteen steam threshers, which put it in the bins at the rate of 1,000 bushels each per day.—[Troy Times Letter.

A Drummer's Flirtation.
John Howard, of the Detroit, Grand Haven and Milwaukee Railway, is one of the youngest of the passenger conductors who run into Detroit. He is a genial, quiet gentleman, but a merry twinkle in his eye denotes his dear love for a joke. Saturday he was given an opportunity to enjoy one. On his train was an officer from Muskegon who had in charge a young brunette of many personal charms, not the least of which were a pair of wicked black eyes, which the spoiled beauty knew how to use. The Deputy Sheriff was taking her to the House of Correction, to which she had been sentenced for a term of three months after having been convicted of various irregularities in the town of "sand and sawdust." Among the passengers who boarded the train at Lowell was a commercial traveler. The officer had left his seat by the side of the pretty prisoner, and was conversing with a friend at the other end of the car. The "drummer," spying the young lady, at once began a game of flirtation, and soon upon her own invitation, he was seated by her side. Then commenced a most delightful and confidential conversation, which was thoroughly appreciated by those passengers who were near enough to overhear. The officer watched the pair narrowly, but did not interfere, and soon every passenger in the coach understood the situation. The cruel Muskegon girl enjoyed the affair highly, and was heard to invite the gentleman to call on her at her uncle's house on Lafayette Avenue on Sunday. All the passengers were in the joke, but the man of the road was blissfully unconscious that the partner of his flirtation was on her way to prison.

When the train arrived in the city the Muskegon officer stepped up and displayed his star, and said, "Come, Miss." The girl arose, and turning her black eyes on the bewildered commercial traveler, said: "We are not allowed to receive calls at our mansion, but my sentence is only for 90 days, and if you happen round this way at the end of that time, I shall be pleased to see you."—[Detroit Free Press.

Mr. Potter—"Mr. President, have you ever appointed a man to office whom you knew, or had any reason to believe, was engaged in the purchasing of any Returning Board, or any member thereof?" Mr. Hayes—"Never." Mr. Potter—"Never?" Mr. Hayes—"Well, hardly ever!"

For Keeping Fowls in Good Thrift.

The absolute requisites for keeping fowls in good thrift are few, but are well determined, through the practical experience of those who know best how to manage this simple and pleasant business. These requirements may be summed up in brief as follows:—

Construct your fowl house so as to avoid damp floors and afford a flood of sunlight. Sunshine is better than medicine.

Provide a scratching place where you can bury wheat and cracked corn, and thus induce the fowls to take take useful exercise.

Fowls need pure air, and plenty of it, at all seasons of the year.

They should have clean water daily and never be allowed to go thirsty.

Feed them systematically two or three times a day, winter and summer.

Supply all they will eat up clean at each feeding, and so make no waste.

Let them have variety, and serve them with both green and dry food constantly.

Suffering for a Life Time.

Persons afflicted with rheumatism often suffer for a life time, their tortures being almost without remission. The joints and muscles of such unfortunate are most cruelly and persistently contracted and drawn out of shape. To afford them even temporary relief, the ordinary remedies are almost useless. Hoffman's Stomach Bitters, on the other hand, is avouched by persons who have used it, to be a genuine source of relief. It keeps the blood cool by promoting a regular habit of body, and removes from it impurities, which, in the opinion of all national pathologists, originate this agonizing complaint and its kindred maladies, the gout. Besides this, the Bitters remedy deters the stomach, liver and bowels, prevent and eradicate intestinal and venereal fevers, promote appetite and sleep, and are highly recommended by physicians as a desirable medicinal stimulant and tonic.
